GETTING STARTED

Start with one page

Every lesson gives you three things to say. Read the Hangul, use the pronunciation guide, then check the English meaning before you speak.

How to use this book

1. One lesson a page, three phrases a lesson, three lessons a day.
2. Say each phrase out loud three times — tick a circle each time.
3. At the end of each day, cover the Korean on the review page and say it from the English.

Romanization is split by syllable — an nyeong ha se yo — so you can sound out the Hangul above it. It is a guide, not a rule: listen to native speakers whenever you can.
